Post-Doctoral Research Fellow, Malcolm Wiener Center for Social Policy, Boston, US

Harvard Kennedy School

(Jul 2019–Nov 2020)

Research Fellow, Malcolm Wiener Center for Social Policy, Boston, US

- Assisted professors Michela Carlana and Desmond Ang with academic research investigating how gender, race and anti-immigration bias impact the lives of marginalized groups.
- Leveraged big data to answer research questions.
- Implemented algorithms and tools for applications in machine learning, web scraping, and interactive dashboards. Used cloud-based cluster servers to analyze big data.
- Managed the several stages of randomized control evaluations: IRB (ethics) approval, grant applications, participant recruitment, power calculations, survey design and data collection, experiment implementation, and final data evaluation.

Ministry of Finance, Brazil

(2017–2019)

Advisor to the Secretary, Secretariat for Productivity and Competition Advocacy, Brasília, DF

- Advised the Secretary on the implementation of structural reforms agenda, which included the creation of (i) a positive credit score system; (ii) a market based reference rate for Brazil's development bank (BNDES) funding; and (iii) a more transparent system for the registry of movable collateral.
- Introduced and evaluated policies designed to promote competition, innovation, and financial inclusion. Examples include proposals designed to reduce import tariffs on capital goods, discipline anti-dumping actions, redesign local content policy for the oil and gas sector and curtail subsidies to the automotive sector.
- Produced papers to communicate technical findings to policymakers, stakeholders, and the general public, such as guidelines on quantitative techniques for the analysis of cartels' behavior/ damage and an evaluation of the evolution of sectoral market power in Brazil's economy.
- Represented the Secretariat in events and meetings with policymakers and stakeholders.
